Welcome to the weather forecast for Winter for the next three days!

On Monday, the day will start with frosty conditions. The morning will be cold, with temperatures around 30°F (-1°C). By afternoon, expect the sunshine to peek through, warming things up to a high of 40°F (4°C). Don't forget your jacket if you're heading outside.

Tuesday will bring a snowy surprise. The sky will be overcast, and light snow showers will begin in the morning. The snow will become heavier in the afternoon, so watch out for slippery roads. Temperatures will stay chilly, with a high of 35°F (2°C).

On Wednesday, the morning will be windy, causing the snow to drift. The skies will clear by midday, allowing the sun to shine. However, it will remain cold, with temperatures reaching a high of 37°F (3°C). Keep warm and enjoy the winter weather!

Stay tuned for more updates!
