

Countable and uncountable nouns

Name:

Date:

What are countable and uncountable nouns

Countable nouns refer to individual things and we can use them in the singular or plural. Uncountable nouns refer to things we consider a whole or mass and cannot be counted.

Countable nouns:

We can put numbers and indefinite articles in front of countable nouns.

We cannot use singular countable nouns without articles or possessive pronouns (a/the/your).

We can use some/any/(a) few/many with plural countable nouns.

Uncountable nouns:

Materials, liquids, and collections are often uncountable nouns.

We use some/any/little/much with uncountable nouns.

We can use many uncountable nouns without an article or possessive pronoun.

Choose the correct answer.

book

☐ countable ☐ uncountable

water

☐ countable ☐ uncountable

friend

☐ uncountable ☐ countable

cake

☐ uncountable ☐ countable

juice

☐ countable ☐ uncountable

sandwich

☐ countable ☐ uncountable

love

☐ uncountable ☐ countable

furniture

☐ uncountable   ☐ countable