

Conditional Sentences Type II

Name:

Date:

What is the second conditional?

The second conditional, also type-II if-clause or the unreal conditional, talks about an unlikely or imaginary condition and its result. It imagines that the present is different to how it really is.

Example:

If I had a million pounds, I would buy a beautiful house on the coast.

Typical situations where we use second conditional if-clauses include:

giving advice, asking hypothetical questions, imagining life as different, making excuses.

Choose the correct answer.

1. If I had a pet, I _ it for walks every day.

☐ took ☐ would take ☐ take

2. If I had a million dollars, I _ some to charity.

☐ would donate ☐ donate ☐ donated

3. He _ better if he took a nap.

☐ felt ☐ would feel ☐ feel

4. If it rains, we _ have a picnic.

☐ did not have ☐ would not have ☐ will not have

5. If I saw a shooting star, I _ a wish.

☐ made ☐ make ☐ would make

6. She _ a new dress if she had enough money.

☐ buy ☐ would buy ☐ bought

7. If you studied harder, you _ better grades.

☐ would get ☐ got ☐ get

8. He _ happier if he had more friends.

☐ be ☐ was ☐ would be

Conditional Sentences Type II

Name:

Date:

Write the correct verb form into the panels.

If I had enough money, I _____ (to buy) a new bicycle.

If it rained tomorrow, we _____ (to stay) at home.

If I had a car, I _____ (to drive) to the beach every weekend.

If I had more free time, I _____ (to read) more books.

If I won the lottery, I _____ (to travel) around the world.

If I had a dog, I _____ (to walk) it every day.

If I saw a spider, I _____ (to scream) very loudly.

If I had a magic wand, I _____ (to make) all my wishes come true.